1.In a M X N matrix where each cell contains either 0's or 1's we need to find number of cluster the can be formed.

2 Given 2 strings we need to delete the character in the strings to make them equal & each string deletion has some cost; we need to minimize the cost.